Design flooring Tecara: Comfort meets design

Tecara is design flooring with an extra dose of comfort. There is a cork layer under each high quality Puretec® surface, as well as on the underside. The cork provides cushioning that is easy on the joints and minimises noise development – for the best possible sense of well-being. And it looks quite impressive on the outside, as well. The wood structures embossed in the surface lend the decors in this collection a completely authentic look.

Naturally, we also created this design flooring to be completely PVC- and phthalate-free. Because we believe that all components of flooring should be ecological and completely non-harmful to health.

Healthy living can be this beautiful.

Design flooring Tecara features an intelligent multilayer construction with a sturdy HDF middle layer. The cork comfort layer provides cushioning that is easy on the joints and minimises noise development – for the best possible sense of well-being. The high-quality Puretec® surface makes the flooring durable and easy to maintain. The additional antistatic finish reduces the development of static electricity on people.
