

PURLINE ORGANIC FLOORING

Nature for your home.

Are you planning a new house or renovation – and only environmentally friendly materials that are healthy come into consideration for your home? In that case our organic flooring offers you the perfect solution. PURLINE is mostly made of natural, renewable raw materials and does not contain any harmful additives: a resource-saving and sustainable alternative.

MADE IN GERMANY

By replacing petrochemical raw materials with biological ones, wineo® has managed to develop what is currently no doubt the most ecological floor covering on the market. We are very proud of this: because once again, our name stands for a particularly innovative, high quality product made in Germany, which also meets the highest ecological standards. Hopefully soon in your home too – we look forward to it!
